YOU WANT TO BREAK FREE?

As a young, dynamic company, we are constantly growing and are therefore looking for an assistant to support and relieve our management, in particular someone whose ambition it is to be more than a background singer in the field of financial accounting – and to perform on more than one stage, because we are looking for a talent for our entire group of companies.

While new processes or technologies shouldn't give you the shivers, we place great value on you being able to develop your individual strengths in your areas of responsibility.

HOW TOURING WITH US WILL LOOK LIKE:

- + You set the pace as well as accompany the team in a variety of financial projects.
- + You perform ongoing accounting tasks, such as processing and monitoring of payment transactions, and bookkeeping in cooperation with our tax advisor.
- + You take on project management for other projects, including the ones that don't fall into your main genre.
- + You assist the management in various strategic and operative topics to ensure the successful performance of our company.
- + You develop controlling instruments and regularly ensure that they are tuned.

THE BEST WAY TO GET A STANDING OVATION:

- + Your analytical skills and affinity for numbers deserve at least a gold record.
- + To keep track of the tour schedule of our company, you rely on your strong organizational skills, a responsible, independent way of working, and your own initiative.
- + Your MS Office skills are so far ahead in the charts that neither the preparation of information nor data processing via Word, Excel or PowerPoint pose an obstacle to you.
- + You are a star when it comes to your team player qualities and your understanding of service.
- + With your fluency in both German and English, you strike the right note in communication with customers and colleagues alike.
- + A background in a tax office or accounting firm or a comparable qualification is an advantage; knowledge of German GAAP and tax laws desired.
